

PHILIPPINES.2011

Coron.Apo.Anilao.Puerto Galera

expedition

NOV 17-27,2011

The Philippine islands are situated in the northern tip of the “Coral Triangle” which encompasses acres of stunning marine environments. We will begin our journey in Manila where we will jump on a flight to Coron town (Palawan Island group). Once arrived we will be boarding the luxurious but traditional Phinisi Scooner, SY Philippine Siren – www.worlwidediveandsail.com. She will be our home for 10 nights and take us around the stunning Palawan Islands of Coron to dive a few of the WWII ship wrecks in Coron Bay, then off to Busuangas Island and Apo Reefs for intense wall dives with an assortment of pelagic – reef sharks are common sightings. Onward we head towards Anilao and Puerto Galera for serious muck macro diving. After 10 nights, we will disembark in Puerto Galera for some additional land based muck diving. This will be 4 nights (NOV 27-DEC01) at the well known EL GALLEON Resort – www.elgalleon.com
